

Additional file 3. Number of forest fires (bars) and burned area (red line) for each year of our study (2006 to 2015) in the Czech Republic, where we investigated the relationship between numbers of forest fires and predictor variables characterizing climate, land cover, and human activity conditions.

