

Highlights:

Hydrolysate was prepared from corn stover

Toxic byproducts in hydrolysate induced the inhibition of growth, accumulation of ROS, damage of endomembrane system

The changes in expression levels of genes were detected by RNA-seq and 2-DE

The detoxification of ROS, membrane stability and protein homeostasis promoted the adaptation to toxic byproducts