

Conflict of Interest Statement:

The authors declare that there is no conflict of interest regarding the publication of this article in the Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Any financial or personal relationships that could potentially bias their work or influence the interpretation of the findings have been disclosed herein. The authors affirm that this manuscript has been prepared in an objective and unbiased manner.