

Hand Sanitizer with Sustained Antibacterial and Virucidal Activities Mitigates Upper Respiratory Symptoms and Work Restrictions: Double-blind Household Cluster-randomized Controlled Trial

Supplementary Figure S1. Subgroup analyses of the intervention effect on upper respiratory symptoms. Hazard ratios (HRs) and 95% confidence intervals (CIs) were estimated using Cox proportional hazards models with cluster-robust standard errors. The x-axis is plotted on a logarithmic scale.